

News Release

Tom Vorgitch Joins Solid Concepts Inc. as Vice President of Marketing

VALENCIA, CA: July 1, 1996—Solid Concepts, Inc. announced today that Tom Vorgitch joins the Company as vice president of marketing. Tom brings a wealth of knowledge and professional experience based upon his career in the CAD/CAM/CAE and rapid prototyping industry. Prior to joining Solid Concepts, Tom held the position of director of corporate marketing for The MacNeal-Schwendler Corporation. He has also held engineering and marketing positions at 3D Systems, Inc. and Lockheed Corporation.

According to Solid Concepts' president, Joe Allison, "As one of the pioneers of the rapid prototyping industry, Tom's knowledge and experience with rapid prototyping will help us maintain our position as the technology leader in the industry. In addition to his knowledge of the rapid prototyping market, Tom has extensive experience in marketing a wide range of engineering software products."

---

Solid Concepts, Inc. is a recognized leader in rapid prototyping and manufacturing. Founded in 1991, the Company has enjoyed tremendous growth, fueled by a commitment to service and constant technical innovation. In addition to providing rapid prototyping and manufacturing services, Solid Concepts develops and markets a software product called SolidView, which has become the industry standard for viewing and manipulating stereolithography (STL) files generated from any popular CAD system. The Company is privately held and is headquartered in Valencia, California.

Media & Analyst Contact Scott McGowan

28309 Avenue Crocker
Valencia, CA 91355

Main 661.295.4400
Toll Free 888.311.1017

marketing@solidconcepts.com
www.solidconcepts.com

